

A Chemistry Table of Everything

Showing the relationship between the mole and many other measures.

Simply follow the symbols of one colour, ending up with the mole, and taking a thin line to mean "multiply", and a thick line to mean "equals" (or some variation thereof).